DEPARTMENT UPDATES

*Administration

We have a new administrative staff member in the front office that will be part-time beginning on Aug. 1.

The attorneys have helped us move forward with the deed to the Williamson Ave section that was the city's, back over to the county. Those official documents have been signed by the mayor and turned over to the county for filing. Williamson Ave is on a list to be paved with county C-funds, not CPST funding. Green Street is set to be paved with CPST funding.

Update on Whiskey Run: I did have to send a letter of acceptance to the developers today for the sewer in Whiskey Run because SCDES requires that we go ahead and accept the ownership of the system. Everything else will be based on the percentage of the finished project. I am waiting on the engineers to help us with the amount of the bond for the maintenance of the sewer.

Hometown Hero Banners- today was the last day to submit the Hometown banner applications for the $50 price. The banners will now be applied through the Aiken County Veterans Council – Hometown Heroes, at the regular $85 rate. As of this morning, they did not have New Ellenton on the choices of places, but they are working on updating that now. The deadline to get them in for our fall round will be Sept 5.

Tomorrow evening is a public hearing on the Lower Savannah -Salkehatchie River Basin Council Water Plan, which is part of the full SC state water plan that has been worked on for the last 3-4 years. These river basin plans put together models of ground water and surface water scenarios for future use (including options for developments in industry and housing) throughout the state to help the state prepare for any water shortage issues that we may encounter. I have been on this council since I was employed at Barnwell and continue to be on it while here in New Ellenton. I believe it to be a vital planning document for the future of our state concerning water use. The public hearing will be held in Hampton SC at 5:30 pm, if anyone is interested is attending.

There will be a Public Hearing – on Tuesday, July 29 beginning at 5 pm. This will be a public meeting to discuss community needs and priorities for housing, public facilities and economic development. We invite all New Ellenton citizens to come out and participate. It will be held here at the City Hall.

I am working with SCDNR and the county and will be bringing to you all updated ordinances for Floodplain Management over the next few months.

I will be meeting with Edgefield County later this week to talk with them about the Planned Development Ordinances and hopefully receive some assistance on what we need to put together here in New Ellenton.

FYI - I will be out of the office on Thurs-Fri, August 7-8.
